CABINET GIVEN COLD WELCOME

Reichstag Indifferent as Ministry Appears

Luther's Declaration Meets Little Approval

Communists Make Frequent Interruptions

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BERLIN, Jan. 26.—Seldom has a new cabinet been received with a greater indifference, even among the parties supporting it, than Chancellor Luther's second ministry, which made its first appearance in the Reichstag today.

Except for the customary interruptions by the Communists, who greeted Dr. Luther with "here comes the Chancellor with the iron front"—an adaptation of Bismarck's title of "Iron Chancellor"—and occasional derisive interjections by the extreme Nationalists, Dr. Luther's declaration elicited no particular interruption or approval. Only scattered applause at the end indicated that the cabinet had friends in the House.

When the Chancellor pointed out Germany's precarious economic position, the Nationalists shouted "since the London agreement," when he declared that the government had been working to complete the labors of Locarno, they interrupted with "unfortunately." But they soon subsided. The Chancellor's declaration made particular reference to the occupation of the Rhineland, which, it is said, was the chief issue in Germany's foreign relations. Another issue of importance was Germany's entry into the League of Nations, and still another had reference to the claims of the former royal family.

The Communists' ire was especially provoked by the statement that the government believed a referendum on the independence of the claims of former royalties was inopportune. When Dr. Luther pledged remedial social measures, the Communists reminded him that about 1,800,000 unemployed must be supported by doles.

Mrs. Akeley is an explorer of distinction and a year ago she was Mary L. Jobe, and Jobe Mountain in British Columbia was named recently in her honor by the American Geographical Society because of her explorations there.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Quit work if you mean for self-culture. This is the advice of John Cowper Powys, English critic, novelist, dramatist and philosopher.

But do not expect to become rich or famous, or a success, he warns.

"Work is the worst thing in the world for self-culture," is his belief. "The only way to get self-culture is to sit alone by yourself and think. It is the art of becoming more and more sensitively and imaginatively aware of what it is to be born on the planet earth."

Radical Socialists Propose Levy on Capital

Government Wants to Boost Indirect Taxation

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PARIS, Jan. 26.—A capital levy supported by the Radical Socialists against the government's plan for an increase of indirect taxation to balance the budget and provide a sinking fund for debt, seems after the first day's debate of the financial measures in the Chamber of Deputies to be the principal issue at stake.

The Radicals and Socialists, explaining the fact that their bills fall to provide for amortization of the debt, declared that they were opposed to any new taxes for this purpose; they contended that this matter could be settled later by a call upon capital.

However, if queer swats came a fighter to the verdict, Greb was hands down. Just how he does it nobody seems to know, but dispatching lefts and landing with rights is one of the middleweight king's tricks.

Throughout the fight the boys were on very even terms, and Greb's favor must have been in the round, when the holder uncoiled a wild attack of fighting. He flung lefts with reckless abandon and kept to the face and body with firmness. Up to that time, however, was clearly in the street with Greb, having landed him with a damaging right in the sixth round.

In splendid condition, Moore landed after Greb at the opening bell and captured the lead to the head. In this second round, the champion was a big chaser from the start, by hitting Moore off the middle strand of rope, where he crashed after missing a jab.

U.S.C. TO START BASEBALL

Sam Crawford Announces Practice Date; Trojan Weakened by Graduation

The joy not occasioned by the rapid completion of the new Boyars Field is not confined to Dean Cromwell and his Trojan trackers. Sam Crawford, former big leaguer of more or less note, and now coach of the U.S. baseball team, witnessed the progress on the field this season. Crawford and his diamond artists are to start work February 1, immediately after the completion of all final examinations and the re-registration process.

Trojan baseball, like Trojan basketball, is to suffer extensively from graduation this season. Of last year's first string, Capt. Hobbs Adams, pitcher, and Morris ("Red") Badgero are the only returning veterans. They will continue to some extent to be replaced by Vic Orsatti, Coach Caldwell and Web Gibson of the Fresh, while Ted Schiberg, who was not out last year, looks as capable a hurling candidate.

Quichard, pitcher, and Getchell, catcher, will mark

♦ Vic Orsatti of freshman fame, is considered a "sure thing" for the third-bass job. No other eligible has appeared to date. Vic is a hard worker and plays the game with a dash and a dash of cushion in fifty yards. He has had several minor-league offers but has declined them in favor of a college education.

THOMAS GONE

The ineffectuality of Fay Thomas as a nasty bunt Crawford's team. "Scott" and Bud Crawford, the Occidental expert, were with Bernie Nevins, about the best coach in the state, and the Thomas' was ruled ineffectual for playing semiprofessional ball. He and Crawford furnished local fans with a lot of hard hitting duels seen in these parts when they looked up last season.

Gormsen is a tall, drawn-out, dark-skinned fellow, who is displaying a fairly inspired form mond varsity, and his last sport at Trojanville. Coney Galindo seems to be another pinch for an outfield berth. He is a good asset at short on the frosh team last year and other infielders were available, but he is an outfielder by trade. He is a shrewd stickler, and his timely moves should gain him a regular berth.

The first game of the season is with Stanford on March 5, less than a week after the season starts. With Nevins gone from the Stanford line-up, the Trojans are hoping for a victory over the Cardinals. The Trojans will play a three-series on March 20, while a three-game affair with Arizona for some time in April is being arranged. The Trojans have had a favorable period, as Crawford plays thirteen-game season.

Not only is he a demon on the grid field, a highly capable forward on the basketball court, and a track man of ability, although he has not run on Coach Conmwell's varieties, but he is also an astute baseball performer, and can handle any position in first-class fashion. He plays a pitchman's outfield or infield and will unhesitatingly decorate the initial cushion, should no other candidates of his appear. He suffers a broken arm in the Idaho football game, and should be in shape.

"HATED THIS THEY'RE ALL STRIKES"

Chapter 60

Tim Hurst was the most colorful of all umpires. He had courage, the spirit of adventure, the ability to quickly make up his mind, quick wit and the Celtic fire that was a first-class umpire in every way and, although prone to make a few mistakes like the rest of us, he never tried to cover up. He called on what he knew and would not call anything wrong until another wrong was made. He was a real thing. An ad- with wrong- crowd. He made a right- umpire. He about the seventh inning third. He collected the crowd. Batsmen more won the game and the Pittsburgh Pirates blamed the defeat on Tim's decision. A crowd swarmed on the field. The Baltimore players swarmed on the clubhouse and reached the locker room. They had to go up a runway outside of the clubhouse. The crowd was packed around the runway and the Tim Hurst reached the top by a bridge. He saw the brick leave a man's hand and without a second's delay he leaped into the crowd to get the man that threw it. Tim's feet were both smacking but he was no match for the crowd. He was knocked down but before any never what is called a "home," an umpire who will always favor the home team. He is therefore stand- ing with the fans in every city. I called them as he saw them, so could always depend on him. He was the only one coming to you away from home.

After you got to know Tim's traits and characteristics you came to realize that he could not be a "home" umpire with Tim. Here is an incident that will illustrate what I mean, an incident of Tim's:

Detroit and Cleveland were playing in Cleveland. When Cleveland came to bat in the last half of the ninth Detroit was leading by a 2-to-2 score. Cleveland had two runners on base with two out and Charles Spiders came to bat. A serious damage could come to Cleveland if Spiders rescued Tim saving his life.

Another demonstration of nerve came one day in Cleveland. The pitcher was Tim. Cleveland Spiders were keen right in those days. They were playing a tight contest in Cleveland. The pitcher pitched a curve. Hawke had a fast dropping cut that few men ever hit after broke. The curve was broken for the first time right on the plate. Cleveland got out of men on in the home half of ninth and seriously threatened Baltimore's one-run lead. The pitcher then John T. Tabor, manager and first baseman of Spiders, came to bat. Hawke tried to break a curve over the plate that would be a strike which he would not be able to do. The pitcher le Hickman was sent to bat for the pitcher, Bill Donovan, in the first inning. Both teams had a Hickman wide one and then shot a fast one by him. Hickman ignored the fast ball and hit a sure strike. The count one and one, Donovan crossed up Hickman by sending a fast one over the outside corner. Hickman batted and offered. Hurst called it a strike. Hickman objected, saying:

"You dirty stiff, what'd you call ball like that a strike for? You ball players can't see a ball. I'm blind; you're too old to see anyway."

ALL STRIKES

"Is that so, Charlie?" answered him. "I'm blind, am I? I'm too old to see, am I? Well, I'll tell you, Charlie, just for that everything he against Hawke all day, ran before time and met the ball before it got to him. He was a good fielder's head, sending in the runs and apparently winning the game.

Wilbert Robinson, enlisting for Baltimore, told me that Hurst as soon as the ball was hit. He told Tim that Tebeau had run two feet out of the box and was a somewhat comically out. This was true and Hurst agreed.

"You're out!" shrieked Hurst.

There was a great commotion. Everybody got into the argument. Hurst explained to Tebeau that he was out and told him to get out of the box for Tim's blood. There were demands that he be lynched.

Hurst yelled: "You're out, Trevelyan, and you stay out. The game is over."

Turning, he started for the clubhouse, glaring in menacing manner to the right and left. Of all the howling mob none laid a hand on him. They even opened a path for him and, belligerently and defiantly, Hurst marched to the clubhouse.

There are a great many more incidents in which Hurst figured. Some of them will be recalled in the next chapter.

"It's as good as Shaw-Walker!"

SOMETIMES "It's better than Shaw-Walker", according to the speaker. But almost always Shaw-Walker product is the standard of comparison.

Take the Shaw-Walker Steel Filing Cabinets for instance. They have done their work faithfully ever since the first one was put in a customer's office. Why? Because each one actually is "Built Like a Skyscraper". Crosspieces and girders are welded on uprights and reinforced engineering. Then we improve on the skyscraper by spotwelding skeleton and walls into one solid piece of steel.

Drawers, too, are solid steel. Jump into one - hard. It will still coast in or out at a touch.

The only "Built-Like-a-Skyscraper" file bears the name Shaw-Walker. The same name goes on and the same quality goes into Shaw-Walker desks, safes, indexing, cards, folders, guides, bank equipment. Good for a "Skyscraper" man.

Hundred Thousand in Homage to Dead Cardinal

Chamber Approves National Funeral Thursday

Pope and Other Dignitaries
Send Condolence

(BY CARLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
BRUSSELS, Jan. 26.—The working people paid homage to Cardinal Mercier today. Stores and factories and workshops were closed, and when the doors of the Archiepiscopal Palace at Malines closed tonight more than 100,000 persons had walked past the cataphage.

The Chamber of Deputies, with only two dissenting votes, both Communists, approved the credits for a national funeral Thursday, and the session was suspended for fifteen minutes as a taken of mourning. There will be no session of the Chamber Thursday.

A slight incident occurred in the House, when the Social Deputy,
Bismont, protested against the violation of the law in permitting the cardinal's body to be interred in St. Rombaut Cathedral, but M.
Vandervelde, former Minister of Justice, hotly defended the government's action. He recalled that he himself had promised the cardinal years ago that this last favor would be granted him.

A special message of condolence addressed to the royal family, the archbishopric of Malines and the country came today from the Pope, who expressed most profound sorrow at the cardinal's death.

Other messages came from King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, the Czechoslovak government, the Governor of Rome, Dr. Nicholas
Murray Butler, president of Columbia University; President Hil-ben of Princeton, and Lord Hall-fax, president of the English Church Union, one of the participants in the Malines conference for union of the Anglican and Catholic churches. Lord Halifax was one of the last visitors to the cardinal's deathbed. He said he would attend the funeral.

Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium during the great war and later Ambassador, and closely associated with Cardinal Mercier, sent the following message from Nice:

"The death of the great cardinal is a loss to Belgium, of which he was the glory, and for the world, of which he was the light."

STOCKTON WORKMAN KILLED BY BOULDER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
STOCKTON, Jan. 26.—Jack Daniels, Melrose dam worker, died in a Sonoma hospital from injuries received when his foot was crushed under a huge boulder in the river bottom near the dam site.
When the boulder shifted and caught his left foot he feared that the rock might again shift and force him under water. He made frenzied efforts to release himself and in the hospital afterwards, he was found to have, in addition to a smashed foot, wrenched muscles and tendons in the entire leg. Infection set in and caused death.

Why have BOILS?

Boils and pure, rich, red blood never go together. They simply won't mix, any more than oil and water. Healthy blood dries these pois right up! That's the reason S. S. S. drives agonizing boils completely out of the system. There's not a chance for a boil, or any other breaking out on the skin, when pure blood, full of red cells is rushing through your system.

And that's what S. S. S. does.
Builds up the red blood. Puts red-blood-cells by the millions back in the system. S. S. S. makes the blood so strong in healthy, red-blood-cells that painful, tortuous boils—disfiguring pimples, blackheads and blotches, itching, burning eczema and rashes and other embarrassing skin eruptions simply get out.

It's a fact. S. S. S. has been doing this very thing for 100 years.
You can get S. S. S. from any druggist. So, why have boils? Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

BRITAIN AND ITALY SIGN
DEBT PACT

Annual Payments Fixed at £4,500,000 Said to be Basis of Agreement

(BY CARLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, Jan. 26.—Great Britain and Italy have come to a settlement on the Italian war debt. A complete agreement has been reached, as evidenced by an official statement issued this evening.
Count Volpi, Italian Minister of Finance, and Mr. Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, have arrived at a complete agreement on the Italian debt to Great Britain.
Formal signature of the funding agreement will take place tomorrow and the text will be available tomorrow evening.

As yet the exact terms of settlement are not known. It seems safe to assume, however, that the British taxpayer will be greatly disappointed, as it is understood the terms Count Volpi obtained were even better than the terms granted to Italy by the United States.

It is believed that the main lines of the settlement provide for the payment of an annuity of 4,500,000 pounds for sixty-two years, the annuities commencing forthwith, but possibly with some slight relaxation the first year. Italy renounces the interest on the £2,000,- 000 pounds in gold deposited with the Bank of England.

Hills Oil Leases After Adverse Decisions

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—The U. S. Doheny oil interests today petition in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here for a rehearing of the case in which the Pan American Petroleum Company and the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company were deprived of their contracts as illegal.

The Appellate Court on the 4th
inst. affirmed District Judge Wilson's voiding of the leases at Los Angeles, and also upheld the government's right to reimburse Doheny for $12,000,000 in improvements in Kern county,
California, and at Pearl Harbor,
Hawaii.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Charles Ernest Robinson, husband of the woman involved in the famous blackmailing case, wherein Sir Hari Singh, now Maharajah of Kashmir, was the victim, appeared for public examination in the Bankruptcy Court today. His liabilities are listed at £42,840, and his assets at

of the money obtained from Sir
Hari, but settled it all on his wife,

He said he owed other sums, which he borrowed to bring suit in the blackmail case, but these are debts of honor and are not included in the statement. The registrar ordered the names produced at the

IN HARMONY with the cultural side of life in Southern California, Barker Bros.' new store embodies three factors destined to be dominant in Los Angeles. They are the Studio of Interior Decoration, the Ainslie Art Galleries and the Auditorium. The Studio is a much magnified development of the Decorative Studio as it was in the old store—with more extensive and more beautiful quarters—with added talent—with far broader capacity for service. The Ainslie Galleries are an entirely new development, being the only Ainslie Galleries outside of New York, where in fifty years they have established a reputation that extends the country over. The Auditorium is still another new expression, planned for the public—as an art center—for music—drama—cultural study and instruction. All three become integral parts of Barker Bros. as a "Great University of Home Furnishing"—not for the few but for everyone—giving color and meaning to all that Barker Bros. do. The great space devoted to these three parts of the store is the result of Barker Bros.' observation of the demands that the Los Angeles public is making—and a regard for these demands. And these are only three of many points of interest in Barker Bros.' new store. Everyone is most cordially invited to acquaint himself with all parts of this "New Home of Better Homes".

GLOBE'S VERNON PROPERTY SOLD

Stock Yards of Milling Firm Purchased by Santa Fe

Removal of Improvements Reserved Two Years

Morgan Will Succeed Keller as President, June 30

That the Globe Grain and Milling Company has sold its stock yards at Vernon to the Santa Fe Railroad for a consideration of $150,000, with rental privileges for a period of two years at a nominal rent and with the additional right to remove all improvements at the end of the two-year period, was the announcement made yesterday by W. E. Keller, president of the Globe Grain and Milling Company.

The deal was handled directly with the railroad company. W. K. Etter, general manager of the Santa Fe, said yesterday that the purchase of the Globe stock yards by the company has no connection with the reported construction of an industrial line by the Santa Fe from Fullerton to Long Beach. The improvements, which will be removed by the Globe Company at the end of the two-year rental period, were installed several years ago at a cost of approximately $1,000,000, Mr. Keller stated.

Owing to poor health and a desire to withdraw from the strain of active management of the affairs of the Globe Grain, Mr. Keller has announced his intention of resigning as president of the company at the close of the company's fiscal year, June 30. He will be succeeded by O. A. Morgan, vice-president. Mr. Keller expects to continue as a director of the company.

OTHER CHANGES PROBABLE

Mr. Morgan, for a number of years, has received training under Mr. Keller for the position to which he will be elevated. While Mr. Keller stated that there will probably be other changes made in the official staff of the company, they will constitute only promotions or other changes in the present personnel.

The Globe Grain and Milling Company was incorporated under the laws of California in 1902, as successor to McDonald Grain and Milling Company. The company owns and controls interests in the El Paso (Tex.) Grain and Milling Company, and in May 1914 consolidated five grain and mill companies of California and Oregon. Plants are located at Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Sacramento and Colton, Cal., Ogden, Utah and El Paso, Tex.

DAILY CAPACITY LARGE

The company has a daily capacity of 5800 barrels of flour, 100 barrels of cereals and 635 tons of feed. The company's rice mill has a daily capacity of 148,000 pounds of rice. A macaroni factory is operated at Culver City and grain elevators, warehouses and feed mills at various points of California, Oregon, Washington, Utah and Idaho. The company also owns thirty-seven cotton gins throughout California, Arizona and Lower California.

Controlling interest is also owned in the Globe Cotton Oil Mills at Vernon, which operate in California, Oregon, El Centro and Calexico, Cal., oil refineries at Vernon and fish meal factory at Globe Grain common stock has been exceedingly active on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in the past few weeks, advancing from 35 to a close yesterday at 60.

Financing Plan of Chicago Rail Line Announced

Changes in financial structure of Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad Company was made public last yesterday, with the announcement that Halsey, Stuart & Co. is offering an issue of $5,000,000 first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent bonds, due January 1, 1931, at 84 and interest, yielding over 8.30 per cent. It was stated that part of the proceeds of the issue would be used toward refunding the $750,000 two-year 6 1/2 per cent secured gold notes, due December 1, 1926, and the $1,050,000 refunding and improvement mortgage 7 per cent bonds due April 1, 1947, and also for the purchase of approximately $2,000,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, due April 15, 1941.

As a result of this step, the company will be in an attractive position, with all of its funded debt long term and 6 per cent the maximum coupon rate, as contrasted with the 4 1/2 per cent and 7 per cent rates in the securities which are to be retired.

TRADERS WATCH FAR EAST

Possibility of War Interests Speculators; Memory of Profits Still Fresh; Exchanges Steady

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Not for some time have foreign affairs exerted any influence on the stock market. The French financial troubles once or twice have caused momentary uneasiness, but nothing has materialized to either induce genuine concern in the minds of the speculators, or hopes of profit.

In the last few days, however, the news dispatches from the Far East have carried reports reflecting all the ear-marks of a grave situation in China that may lead to war between Russia, China and Japan. Naturally, the stock market is alert to the possibilities in this state of affairs.

Reports from London say that the British government is anxiously watching the progress of developments between China and Russia. In some quarters, actual armed conflict is expected, with the Japanese supporting the Chinese, and providing the finances and the ammunition. It is reported, it is said, that the possibility of supply purchases that especially concern the American speculators.

SIGNS TELL STORY

Before, however, it is time for the speculators to dip into the copper, steel and ammunition stocks, or acquire large lines of cotton, certain preliminary signs of the coming of war. In the months prior to the opening of the World War, these signs were virtually begging for attention, but the rank and file of speculators, as a rule, ignored them. The story was fully told in the trend of foreign exchanges and of foreign security prices.

In the present Far Eastern situation, these warnings are missing. Exchange on Tokyo and Shanghai has remained virtually unchanged in the last few days, and Japanese government securities are also unaffected. Evidently then, the war scare is only in the headlines, the strength of the upheaval will be measured by the declines in the exchanges and securities.

From the point of view of the American speculator, on the basis of market history from 1914 on, the actual outbreak of war between Russia and Japan exerts two influences on the stock market. The first reaction is a break in prices in reflection of the effect on international business, and the second is a scramble to buy the stocks of the companies that sell war materials to the belligerents.

The market history of the war babies on the New York market between 1914 and 1918 is interesting to recall. It took some time for most of this category to reflect the buying of war supplies, and many were unaffected until the United States entered the war.

STOCKS SOAR

Coppers, steels, ammunition and ordnance manufacturers, and cotton, in the commodity market, were the leaders. Between 1915 and 1918, Bethlehem Steel common soared from a low of 44 1/2 to a high of 700. United States steel common climbed from 7 1/2 in 1917 to 125 1/2 in 1918, and closed at a high of 99 in 1917.

In the copper group, many of the stocks doubled in price. Utah in 1917, ranged from a low of 7 1/2 to a high of 130, and Nevada Consolidated, in 1918, more than doubled its price at a high of 34 1/2. Anaconda sold up from 4 1/2 in 1915 to 108 1/2 in 1918, and Kennecott climbed from 25 in 1915 to a high of 59 1/2.

IN THE EQUIPMENT GROUP

Arms advanced from 4 1/2 to 119 1/2 in 1917 and Du Pont from 23 1/2 to 440 1/2. All of these advances in security prices were the result of the great war in history. Nothing like a repetition can be expected from any conflict that may develop in the Far East, but it is also true that if the governments concerned have the finances, American manufacturers will get a good share of the war business.

NEW EDISON BOND ISSUE ON MARKET

Commonwealth Company of Chicago Offering is $15,000,000

Operating revenue of the Commonwealth Edison Company has attained a new high mark, according to an announcement made yesterday in Chicago, simultaneously with the offering of the $15,000,000 Commonwealth Edison Company first mortgage collateral 4 1/2 per cent bonds, Series C, by Halsey, Stuart & Co., and associates at 92, to yield 4.95 per cent. It was stated that this revenue for the year 1925 shows an increase in excess of $5,000,000 over the year 1924, which established a high mark with $53,672,442. Net earnings for 1925, it is expected, when finally audited, will show a corresponding proportionate increase over 1924, when they were $13,197,282.

Reports that the issue of 4 1/2 per cent bonds would be a "good deal of attention," since it marks a new record in public-utility financing. It represents the first issue of long-term bonds of a public-utility company of great size which has been offered with a 4 1/2 per cent coupon since the period preceding the World War. It attests to the position which has been attained by the company in the financial field and reflects the position which the public-utility industry now holds with the investor, as well.

The company's financial record has been satisfactory, the company and its principal predecessor, Chicago Edison Company, having paid dividends since 1889 without interruption. The company serves with electrical energy, practically without competition, the entire city of Chicago.

McATEE IS SUPPORTED AT MEETING

Slate of Mortgage Firm Elected at Stockholders' Gathering Yesterday

The attempt on the part of a group of dissatisfied stockholders of the Union Mortgage Company of California to obtain control of the company at the annual stockholders' meeting yesterday was unsuccessful. The old board of directors was re-elected by a large majority and five additional names, suggested by the management of the company, were added to the directorate, according to a report made by the company late last night.

Approximately 75 per cent of the outstanding stock of the company was represented at the meeting, either in person or by proxy. The attendance was so large it was found necessary to adjourn from the company offices to a large room in the Commercial Exchange Building.

Lloyd W. McAttee, president of the company, reported upon the successful activities of the company during the past year, showing that operations were not only profitable, but that affairs of the company were in a healthy position.

The five new members elected to the board of directors are as follows: Frank G. Calkins, D. D. Doty, J. O. Stranaky, Frank Daniels and C. H. Hubbell. Other members are: Jonathan S. Dodge, chairman, David R. Trattner, Lloyd W. McAttee, Hugh Evans, Julian Bernhart, H. L. Carruth, Mort Frank, Daniel Kelly, Charles Greenberg and Robert H. Parker.

The amount of stock issued amounts to 1,500,000 shares and is held by eighty-one stockholders. The stock is non-assessable.

The principal office of the company is in Reno, Nev., and the transfer office is in San Francisco. Officers of the company are C. C. Julian, president; J. Berger, vice-president; W. E. Stanton, secretary-treasurer, and John Salaberry and J. H. Roth, directors.

The new-lead property of the company is located two miles west of Beatty, Nev., in Inyo county, California. The property is known as the Chamberlain group and consists of fourteen claims held under possessory title.

There are several open cuts in the ore on several hundred feet along the outcrop at spaced intervals. A lower tunnel to cut the ore deposit depth is now being driven. The ore grade from small percentage of lead to high-grade lead content. The concentrates, it is estimated, should contain around 1200 pounds of metallic lead per ton and about ten ounces of silver, according to the engineers' report to Mr. Julian.

LOT OWNERS IN CEMETERY TO BE HEARD

Question of Hollywood Burial-Ground Frontage Sale Not Decided

Lot owners in Hollywood Cemetery will have an opportunity to express their views to the City Planning Commission as to the proposed business zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage of the cemetery, under a ruling made yesterday by Planning Commissioner McNitt and agreed to by Frank Heron, representing the owners of the cemetery. The next hearing on the zoning application filed by the cemetery owners will be held at the City Hall before Commissioner McNitt, February 23.

Before Commissioner McNitt, Mr. Heron, representing the corporation owning the cemetery, stated that the increasing expense of the cemetery and the decreasing revenue made it necessary to sell the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage for a depth of 100 feet for business buildings.

Protests against the proposed use of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage for business buildings were made to the commissioner by attorneys representing W. A. Clark, Jr., who owns a $15,000 mausoleum in the cemetery, and others.

Special State Insurance Tax Income Heavy

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Insurance companies doing business in the State of California were required to pay special State insurance taxes for 1924 amounting to $4,574,722.40 in addition to normal tax assessments, according to a bulletin issued today by the insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Less than 2 per cent of this sum, collected in the form of insurance licenses, special taxes and fees, was used for the expenses of the State Insurance Department, and the remainder went into the general State funds.

As pointed out by the chamber's insurance department, the levying of special imposts upon insurance companies is a direct burden upon policy-holders as the insurance companies include the amount thus paid to the States in the costs of insurance. The attitude of the national chamber toward the question of special State insurance taxes is summed up as follows: "Special State taxes now levied on policy-holders through insurance companies should not be considered as a source of general revenue, but should be reduced to the total in each State which will adequately support such State's departmental supervision, and a uniform principle of taxing the holders of insurance should be adopted throughout the States."

Secured Revenues Mean Continuous Dividends

People pay their gas and light bills promptly, even the negligent, because continuance of service is at stake.

Modern necessities of daily life for light and fuel both in the home and in industry, gas and electricity are today basic public utilities and constitute an essentially cash business. And it is a steady business.

Demand is uninterrupted, in good times or poor. Just as small homes are the bulwark of the nation, so the individual householder is the bulwark of public utility revenue. His number is legion in the territory served by PACIFIC LIGHTING CORPORATION'S operating companies.

This condition is one of the reasons why dividends have been paid uninterruptedly on PACIFIC LIGHTING Preferred Stock and continuously—with the exception of one year, 1893-1894—on PACIFIC LIGHTING Common Stock for more than 39 years.

CAMP KELLY DISTRICT ACTIVE

Sherwin-Williams Mine to be Reopened

Zinc Ore Blocked Out at Lynchburg Property

Plant Being Installed for Recovery of Vanadium

Frank Tierney, president of the Black Cloud Mining and Milling Company, whose properties are located at Camp Kelly near Magdalena, N. M., has just returned to this city from an inspection of the company's holdings.

While at the camp Mr. Tierney visited many of the properties of the district, and says that there is much activity in that district, which has an enviable record as a lead and zinc producer, having been at one time one of the largest sources of lead and zinc in the West. There are many undeveloped properties in the district that promise to put Kelly back in its old place on the production list.

MINE HELD IN RESERVE

The Sherwin-Williams Plant Company owns what is probably one of the largest zinc mines in the world, located at Kelly. This property, known as the Ozark, has been held as a reserve source of zinc for several years on account of the low price at which oxidized ore could be purchased in the last few years.

The officers of the company state that this property will be reopened within sixty days. The company has an enormous tonnage of high-grade sulphide ore broken and blocked in the mine, ready for milling operation. This property also owns the Lynchburg property, which is developed by several thousand feet of underground workings and has a large tonnage of high-grade zinc ore blocked out ready to be mined.

MILL IN OPERATION

At the Kelly and Juanita, two of the largest lead producers in the camp in former years, a thirty-five ton mill is being operated by lease on the low-grade ore left from the extensive early operations, covering a period from 1885 to 1910.

A seventy-five-ton plant is being installed north of the town of Magdalena for the recovery of vanadium. This company is working twenty-five men in the development of the property.

On the Black Cloud, which lies between the Juanita and the Lynchburg, little development has been done in the past.

United States Foreign Trade Data Analyzed

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—In analyzing the foreign trade of the United States for 1925 the Commerce Department found today that 40 per cent of the imports consisted of crude raw materials.

As to the exports, the situation was almost reversed, finished manufactured goods making up 33.3 per cent of the total value.

On the import side, the United States takings of foreign manufactured goods decreased in proportion, accounting for only 13.5 per cent of the 1925 total. In 1924 finished manufactures were 16.7 per cent of all imports.

There was a decline in the proportionate value of foodstuffs shipped abroad as compared with the previous year.

PRICES FOR COTTON OFF IN TRADING

Fresh Drop in Liverpool and Lack of New Outside Buying Lead to Slump

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The market was irregular again today, from a further reaction at Liverpool, from more scattered profit taking there and also a falling off in the recent good Continental spot demand, and traders here inclined to look for some setback to prices following its disappointing action of yesterday in falling to have shown more of a response to the less bearish Census Bureau figures issued Saturday.

While there was a fair trade demand for contracts, there was no concerted support to the market in evidence and that feature, together with the lack of any substantial new outside buying, gave the market a further dragging tendency from the opening. This continued during the greater part of the day, resulting in a gradual decline of about 15 points in prices for the general contract list from yesterday's closing by 3:30 o'clock from which there was little rally.

March went down 10 near 7-8c, May about 13-14c, July to near 13-14c and October of the new crop 13-14c and December 17-18c. There was just enough trade buying on the scale down to absorb the scattered liquidation and fresh speculative selling of the bear element and keep the tone of the market steady during the last hour at this decline.

At Liverpool, spot cotton was off 18 of their points from yesterday's prices to 10.7d for middling, with the day's sales $600 bales, while futures closed barely steady at net declines ranging from 7 to 11 points under the lead of the near months.

Today's exports were 35,252 bales including 19,751 to Great Britain, 5,000 to the Continent and over 15,000 to Japan and China. It makes the total exports from August 1 to date 5,147,000 bales against 5,275,000 last year.

UNION PACIFIC HAS YEAR OF PROSPERITY

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The Union Pacific had a prosperous December, net income rising to $2,418,519 from $2,223,219 in December, 1924, and bringing net for 1925 to $40,018,648, a gain of $2,124,484 over the previous year. December gross revenues increased more than $1,400,000. The year's gross, however, fell to $198,029,000 from $199,028,117 in 1924.

Our laws prevent the sale of stock below par, but obviously the railroads in most cases cannot afford to sell at a price below par. The fact that the railroads are selling lower in the open market, back of it is the fact that, at least in the case of the Union Pacific, the rate schedule have not been worked out on a satisfactory basis must be plain to anyone who notes, for example, that the increase in revenue per ton mile for the northwest region rose only 33 per cent from 1915 to 1925, whereas that for the country as a whole was raised 153 per cent in the same period. Much can be said, too, for the no par value shares which the utilities have marketed in recent years with great success.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Jan. 26.—Appointment by a majority of the City Council today of Charles S. Henderson, former Chamber of Commerce head, as City Manager to succeed Charles H. Windham, resigned, evoked what threatened for a time to be a riot in the City Council chamber. More than 200 spectators, practically all of whom had gone there in support of the appointment of G. L. Buck to the office, hurled charges of "steam roller tactics" at the Councilmen and during the altercation that followed in which parliamentary rules were discarded, the short and ugly word was hurled by Councilman Filmore Condit at Mrs. Cora Morgan, publisher of a small local weekly newspaper.

A new, practical air-mail plan, which reduces the loss of time to a minimum will be in operation shortly, according to Harris M. Hanes, president of the Western Air Express. Two million copies of the new air-mail schedule will be in circulation by the middle of March. This schedule, compiled by the Postoffice Department and new air-route contractors, lists seventy-five of the principal cities of the United States, regardless of whether they are on the air-mail route or not.

RECALL THREATENED

Action of the majority of the Council in naming Henderson was in opposition to more than a score of appeals made to the Council by several prominent civic leaders and business men of Long Beach, who urged that the Council postpone the action for two weeks in order to give the citizens of the city an opportunity to make known their opinion for or against the appointment of Henderson.

BLOOD TEST MAKES HIM HERO

Thirty Volunteer to Save Woman

Capt. Spelman at once called for volunteers from the department. His entire morning watch of seventy men responded. Scores of friends, hearing of the case, also volunteered. Thirty men were chosen for tests, and Moody won. Which all goes to show that Los Angeles policemen and firemen live up to their traditions as being "of the best."

MENJOU ASKS FOR DIVORCE

Screen Hero Charges Cruelly, Lays Abuse to Wife; Separation Since November Revealed

Adolphe Menjou, motion-picture actor and screen lover, described in his complaint as "A. J. Menjou," yesterday filed suit for a divorce from his wife, Katherine Menjou, from whom, he revealed, he has been separated since November 15, 1925. The charge is cruelty. Menjou is in New York; his wife followed him there the latter part of November, returned here a short time later, and, early in December, underwent a face-lifting operation about which much mystery was maintained.

The Lancer

By Harry Carr

THE most appalling force in the world right now is the innocent naïveté of Mr. Henry Ford.

He has the bland lack of guile of the child who asks the minister questions that no theologian has ever been able to answer.

THAT FOR HISTORY! When automobiles were invented it was assumed that they were the luxuries of the rich; but Henry decided they would be great for white-collar clerks.

Henry arduously decided that history was the bunk; and the subsequent laborious investigations of savants, proving through dusty tomes, have arrived at much the same conclusion, although by longer and more painful routes.

THE "PEACE SHIP" During the war Mr. Ford got together a shipload of well-meaning visionaries with lusty appetites for free food.

He proposed to take them to the battlefields; and there ask the boys to stop fighting and fighting; and be friends.

All those who did not know anything about it set up a huge howl at Henry's innocence.

But Henry might have got away with it if he could have made his way to the trenches.

The most dangerous hour that happened during the war was that Christmas Day when the Germans and Allies climbed out into No Man's Land and danced and frolicked together.

It wouldn't have taken much Henryism to have ended the war right there.

A STORY OF PITTY Incidentally, the most pitiful incident in the entire war was when that little German tried to climb out of the trenches the day after Christmas to have some more frolicking. He was shot with his hands raised in friendliness.

BUZZ HENRY Mr. Ford is now busy with two other little enterprises.

He is going to restore the old-time dancing after that, he is going to set aside a little time to find out what makes wars; and stop the stuff.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL If it were not Henry one would laugh and say he was just kidding himself.

But I, for one, am quite prepared to see Hollywood belles and beaux waiting the steady wait; and smiling with dignity through solemn quadrilles.

I am not so sure that Henry will stop all the wars, distant the armies and turn the battle ships into little factories—but you can't tell.

If Henry ever becomes sophisticated and learns how important things are this will be a much bleaker world.

Meanwhile, Irving Berlin had better be a little economical on that honeymoon. He is liable to come back and find him all gone and everybody adding "Turkey in the Straw."

THIRTY VOLUNTEER TO SAVE WOMAN

Moody of 217 South Hill Street

Moody of 217 South Hill Street yesterday drew him a hero. Yesterday afternoon at the General Hospital he gave up a pint of his blood that surgeons might have a better chance to save the life of a young woman who is in a critical condition as the result of numerous operations.

FELINE PATRIARCH ENTERS ELYSIAN FIELDS OF CATNIP

Caruso, known around cat-teries as possibly the oldest cat in California, is dead.

Caruso was a black, white-pointed, Angora with a fancy pedigree. He was born on the birthday of his mistress, Mrs. E. M. Smith, 1927 Buckingham Road.

Never did he walk a backyard fence at night. He was a gentleman, so to speak, of high degree. He even disapproved to eat a mouse, although he would catch one occasionally, and loved to hunt for epphars and other small animals.

Two kittens were adopted by him at times in his life and he was a devoted father.

Some time ago he began suffering from nosebleeds and became so ill that chloroform was applied and he took the long, long catwalk to great Elysian fields of catnip where no dogs ever are.

Caruso was a native son and his mistress attributes his patriarchal age to California sunshine.

This is Caruso's first death.

RADIOLAND BALL GREAT SUCCESS

El Patio Dance Floor Filled to Capacity

Numerous Entertainment Acts Feature

Gate Prizes Worth $1000 Given Out

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Radioland's first annual benefit ball, held last night at the huge El Patio Ballroom at Third and Vermont, was a tremendous success, with the immense dancing floor filled to capacity with patrons from every part of the Southwest to greet the hundreds of widely known announcers, radio artists, movie stars and other personages in attendance. The financial committee stated that the special fund of the broadcasters was greatly aided by the receipts, all of which are to be used in furthering the campaign for equitable copyright legislation by Congress.

Stagiums of automobiles began lining up before the big auditorium well before the hour of 8 o'clock, when Mayor George E. Cryer formally welcomed the thousands of guests and opened the festivities. Hundreds of the guests hurried to the gathering at the last minute, waiting until 8 o'clock, when every station in the district closed its microphone for the evening in honor of the celebration, a circumstance without parallel since radio became popular.

The immense room was special-to the ball through the kindness of an unnamed KJL patron, who sent in a check for $150. Many others also bought tickets at the tower studio for use of these veterans and others. The West Coast Theater also supplied a high point in the evening, bringing the Loew's State chorus to the festa.

In addition to obtaining the participation by the Student Prince company, KJL presented a group of some of its prominent artists, including Jose Ariza and his Mexican entertainers with a group of costumed Spanish dancers; "Uncle Remus," the monologist, known to every radio fan; the Orpheus Four male quartet; Harold Hart and John Klotzer, accordionists; "Mother" Trevor, "Mammy Lou," dapper-dancer, entertainer, and two of the widely known stars of KJL's children-hour programs—David Duran, the "Little Boy Blue," and Viola Von, the "Wild Rose of KJL," who scored two of the biggest successes of the evening.

In addition to these artists, KJL provided one of the unique features of the program in the presence of two French war heroes, Capt. Charles Vical, widely known linguist who conducts the semi-weekly classes over The Times microphone, and Capt. Arthur Saint-Remie, now the instructor for the 16th Regiment, the "city's own." These two colorful figures are both masters of fencing, and they created a sensation when they appeared in formal fencing attire and gave a dashing three-minute combat exhibition with foils. Both have been awarded many decorations for their valor during the late World War, both being veterans of many campaigns, including the relief of Verdun and the staff of Marshal Foch.

The studio today will resume its full schedule of day and evening broadcasts, being on the air with the regular program except for the hour from 8 until 9 p.m., when it will again be silent in conformity with the rules of the "International Radio Week" tests being conducted this week between Europe and America. From 9 until 10 o'clock tonight, the Clevelin Realty Company will present a special concert. This afternoon, from 4 until 5 p.m., an additional hour of entertainment will be given through the courtesy of the California Fruit Exposition, now being held at Alhambra, with Robert's Golden State Band and Sara Garlin, the brilliant soprano soloist of the station, broadcasting by remote control.

Yesterday's shortened day of broadcast was started in the morning by the usual setting-up exercises of Prof. Barclay L. Severn, following at 12 o'clock by the half hour concert from Leitch's Arcade Cafeteria orchestra, directed by Jack Cronshaw. The Friar's an orchestra gave their compilation to radioland from 1:30 to 2:30 with an hour of excellent dance music by Jimmy Moran's Original Entertainers, which includes Paty Miller and Violet Hubbard, vocalists; Harvey Morrissey, pianist; Arden, violinist; Frank Macaulay, banjo player; Bob Benson, drums, and Jimmy Moran, saxophone.

From 2:30 until 3:30 p.m., the weekly game of auction bridge was given, also several solos by Louis Cameron, soprano. Immediately following, Capt. Charles Vical gave his regular semi-weekly lesson in conversational French using as text books "The Elements of French," by Moore-Allen for the beginners, and "Anthology of French," by Charles Edmund Young.

The children's hour program presented Prof. Walter Sylvester Hartog, the radio historian, with Queen Titania and her Sandman making their weekly visit from the land of the Radio Fairies, with Lenore Killian, favorite contralto soloist, known as the "Lullaby Lady," singing several selections. Dr. H. T. Howe, 82-year-old fiddler, was also present in the studio, appearing in the big contest culminating this Friday night between all the old-time fiddlers of the Southwest. H. M. Robertson also appeared with his weekly talk on dogs. After the usual frost warnings for fruit growers, the microphone was closed with all studio attaches immediately to the El Patio to attend the radio ball.

Palmetto! New shades of green!

Choose from the Important Greens the Most Becoming!

Lovebird is very young and spring-like! Apple orchards, the first green of new leaves! Very young and very spring-like!

Chartreuse is more sophisticated . . . not quite as easy to wear as the other important greens . . . but the smartest sort of thing to choose.

Lanvin is a soft, silvery gray-green that is lovely on blondes and gray haired types—on women with delicacy of coloring.

Palmetto is the deep blue-green of the palm eucalyptus. A wearable, practical shade of green that is thoroughly smart.

is decorated for the festivities, with the entire vicinity flooded with lights provided through the courtesy of Warner Brothers' motion picture studio. Scores of sun arcs and other brilliant lights were scattered around the site, manned by dozens of expert electricians. Showing the elaborate plans made for this part of the evening, ten of the big generating outfits mounted on trucks, were needed to supply electricity for the lights. This is only the second time in the city that such a display has been made.

TWO STAGES USED

Two main stages were provided in the ballroom. One was used for the augmented dance orchestras, which were present through the courtesy of the seven stations taking an active part in the entertainment. These were KJL, KFI, KNX, KFWB, KMTR, KFON and KNRC. These orchestras took turns in playing for the dancing, which was given in fifteen-minute intervals during the fore part of the evening, with other fifteen-minute spaces filled by the entertainment by the different artists from all the stations appearing on the other stage.

The reception committees were in charge of "Uncle John" Daggert of KJL, the chairman, with Carolyn LaFevre and Mona Constant assisting him for the town studio of The Times. Leslie Adams, Adrienne Dore and Leatrice Joy were there for KFI. "Dad" King, Marilyn Mills and Alice Calhoun for KMTR; G. Allison Phelps, Ruth Roland and June Purcell for KNX; Charles Wellman, Helene Costello and June Winton for KFWB, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild and Dorris Taylor for KNRC. The guests of honor were Marceline Day, Dorothy Dwan, Jetta Goudal and Alice Calhoun. They and all of the hundreds of stars and artists, with the announcers, were presented together to the crowd at 11 o'clock.

Significant of the enthusiasm which greeted the advance preparations for the affair, more than $1000 worth of gate prizes were obtained for distribution among the thousands of guests, whose enjoyment was so keen that the festivities were continued long after 1 a.m., the hour originally set for closing. A big light of the evening was the gift of Master of Ceremonies Scott, of the Scott Sales Company, who is always an outstanding figure at the annual radio shows and other big events.

VETERANS GUESTS

So much entertainment was given by the different stations that many of the elaborate features were late in being staged, many taking part in the big frolic at midnight. Among the many special events, the appearance of the entire company from "The Student Prince," now playing a successful engagement at the Biltmore Theater, was outstanding. The stars and chorus were all taken to the ballroom direct from the theater after their evening performance in buses provided through the courtesy of the Motor Transit Company, sponsor of brilliant programs over KJL, with the same firm supplying the transportation for seventy-five veterans from the Old Soldiers' Home, who were brought to the ball through the kindness of an unnamed KJL patron, who sent in a check for $150. Many others also bought tickets at the tower studio for use of these veterans and others. The West Coast Theater also supplied a high point in the evening, bringing the Loew's State chorus to the festa.

In addition to obtaining the participation by the Student Prince company, KJL presented a group of some of its prominent artists, including Jose Ariza and his Mexican entertainers with a group of costumed Spanish dancers; "Uncle Remus," the monologist, known to every radio fan; the Orpheus Four male quartet; Harold Hart and John Klotzer, accordionists; "Mother" Trevor, "Mammy Lou," dapper-dancer, entertainer, and two of the widely known stars of KJL's children-hour programs—David Duran, the "Little Boy Blue," and Viola Von, the "Wild Rose of KJL," who scored two of the biggest successes of the evening.

POWER SHOVEL URGED TO REMOVE TIN CANS

Authority to turn loose a steam shovel, six motor trucks and the men necessary to operate them on the $10,000 job of removing the tin-can deposit found in Talmadge street when the paving contractor started to work there, was asked yesterday of the City Council by the Board of Public Works. The Council has agreed to appropriate the money. The tin cans constituted a former city dump which had been forgotten, until work started to pave the street.

RIPPLING RHYMES
THE SMOKERS
In dining-rooms, in Volstead parlors, people smoke cigarettes; here'er they meet our social smokers who have tobacco in their mouths, I like my good old pipe. I've used it long and I know when it's filled with tobacco and going strong I've puffed and puffed. But when I smoke I smoke and make a smoke I smoke. I have a shed where I smoke when wishing to puff with fumes of tobacco and smoke, and there I smoke a streak. For well I know to drive someone to drive someone hence. Some day this man will say, "Behold, it's time to smoke cold, to lay it down in the corner." Then suddenly the cigarette and sound their feet in a crisis, and ere the smoke the bootleg vendors we meet. We buy our burley and pipe, and will be put behind the line while smoking of cigars. Prophecies may seem absurd, there any human bird who shall the cheerful day when the smoke the right of way. The robbers were an endless line, those who murmur now at those who seemed intruded for those, so arrogant that were. At last the states were. The breath bled all a while the death, and in the twinkling of an eye there was an end to the and rye. Some day the come and say and choke will overtake who smoke.

POLAND BURIAL TOMORROW
Head of City Prosecutor's Investigation Office Known as Expert Adjuster of Family Troubles

Funeral services for J. R. Poland, head of the City Prosecutor's investigation department for the last two years, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Lowe undertaking parlors, 918 West Washington street.
Poland, who died at the Clara Barton Hospital Monday night as the result of a chronic illness which became acute a week ago, was known to thousands throughout the city as an expert adjuster of marital difficulties and neighborhood quarrels.
In connection with his work he settled thousands of minor disputes out of court and became widely known for his helpful philosophy and cheerful fairness to all with whom he came in contact. On several occasions his experiences and views on life were set forth in articles in the public press.
He was a member of the Arlington Masonic Lodge and the City Employees' Masonic Club. He had been in the employ of the city since 1918 in various capacities with the Bureau of Power and Light and the City Prosecutor's office.
Born in Illinois, Poland came to Los Angeles when he was a boy and had resided here since. He was 41 years of age and leaves his widow only. The family residence is 1748 East Fourteenth street.
Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery, where Masonic rites will be conducted at the grave.
Col. Frith, were assigned by Ray R. Adams, head of the agents, to raid the Raa home. After they had placed Mrs. Raa under arrest, Garner suggested waiting for the appearance of her husband, Jules Raa. Manley is said to have refused. Garner then went to another house to telephone Agent Adams to get another man assigned to the case and when he returned discovered Manley, the woman, the car and the liquor gone.
Manley wrecked the car against an electric pole on Ventura Boulevard and was found sitting in it, still intoxicated, by County Motor-cyclist Officer Nelson. He had a badge, the property of John H. Vail, another prohibition agent, which Vail is said to have left in his desk when he went out of town on a secret mission. The motorcycle officer arrested Manley and took his badge and revolver.

EX-WIFE BRINGS UP FINE POINT IN SUIT

PROBLEM IN ALIMONY UP FOR ANSWER
Increased Payments Asked from Husband Whose Marriage Was Annulled
Whether a man whose marriage has already been declared canceled by a court decree can be required to pay alimony to the woman he was found not to be married to, is the question Mrs. Inez R. Withers has submitted to the Superior Court.
Under an order signed by Presiding Judge Stephens, Grant Withers, youthful picture actor, will be required to show cause why he should not pay her $150 a month.
Several months ago Mrs. Withers sued for divorce, charging cruelty. Withers' mother countered with a suit for annulment, setting forth that her son was a minor and had married without parental consent. At subsequent alimony hearings before Judge Gates, Withers testified that he was no success in the pictures and that he could not make more than $100 a month, try as he would.
The annulment suit came to trial last December, and Withers was granted a decree, whereby he was ordered to pay $40 a month for the support of his child. In her present action Mrs. Withers informed the court that she hears Withers is now working under a five-year contract at a salary of $150 per week. Her attorney, Milton Golden, argued that Withers' increased prosperity should be reflected in more alimony.

HEIRESS IN JAIL WHILE BOND MADE
Beneficiary of $100,000 Bequest Detained for Few Minutes in Check Case
Miss Nina Kelly, a few weeks ago reported heiress to an estate of about $100,000 left by her uncle, a Kansas City attorney, was held for a few minutes yesterday. Two weeks before the news of the bequest reached her, it is said, Miss Kelly was arrested on a charge of having given on a check for $800 to Miss Jeanette Goldson without having sufficient funds. Friends put up a cash bond of $1000. The case was longer in coming to trial than had been expected. It was stated, and the friends, needing money, yesterday asked that the bond be set aside. Miss Kelly waited in the jail while a surety bond was being arranged. Judge Ketch set the case for pleading at 10 a.m. Monday. Miss Kelly is represented by Atty. George A. Glover. She is 24 years of age.

Tale of Husband Taking in Poor Girl Rejected
"Sh-h-h," cautioned Edwin Temple, when his wife came to him upon his invitation, for a reconciliation. Mrs. Francena Temple told Judge Summerfield yesterday. "She's asleep, poor thing," Temple explained, according to his wife, "I found her on the street, sick, and I brought her here because I was sorry for her." This explanation did not sufficiently explain the presence of the other woman in Temple's quarters, his wife said, so she wanted a divorce.
"It was not a very timely incident, coming up as it did just when you were all ready to forgive and forget," Judge Summerfield observed.
She won a divorce.

FOUR HELD ON JURY BRIBERY

Arrests End Investigation of More Than Year

Asserted Offense Involves
First Trial of Broker

Implicated Juror Said to Have Made Statement

Concluding an investigation of more than a year, Austin C. Doan of Lynwood, former juror, Barney Schwartz, convicted head of a stock brokerage house, Herman Miller and Leonard L. Jones were arrested yesterday on grand jury indictments charging jury tampering.

Doan is accused of having accepted $100, with the promise of more, and a turkey, the asserted offense occurring the day before Thanksgiving.

The asserted offense involved the first trial of Schwartz, which resulted in an eleven-to-one disagreement in November, 1924. Doan was a member of that jury.

The indictments were returned yesterday by the grand jury, which the case had been presented by Dep. Dist. Atty. Bonner Richardson. Ball in the case of Schwartz was set at $20,000 by Superior Judge Hahn, while the ball for the others was set at $5000.

Miller and Schwartz were charged with bribery of a juror, Doan was indicted for agreeing to a bribe, and Jones, Schwartz and Miller were accused of unlawfully attempting to influence a juror.

A complete statement was secured from Doan, it was said, by Mr. Richardson and Investigator George Holman. The others were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Collins and King.

Schwartz and four others went on trial in November, 1924, charged with manipulating stocks. The first trial resulted in a disagreement. He was convicted in February, 1925, and is now awaiting appeal.

Miss Wallington, his secretary, were indicted, charged with attempting to bribe a juror in connection with this case. Miss Wallington disappeared, but returned a short time ago and stated that she had been spirited to New York. Schwartz $800, But They Got It.

He Tells Police

"Ashore and with 900 bucks in the old sea bag," was the chant of Rudolph Peterson, seaman, Monday. Yesterday Peterson reported himself to the police as still being ashore, but without the 900 bucks.

A burglar, he said, using a passkey, had entered his room at 311 North Harbor Boulevard, and stolen the cash out of his suit case.

Peterson pleaded guilty and was given a fine.

Miller yesterday testified before the grand jury, and it is understood that he recounted details of negotiations between himself, Jones and Schwartz, on one hand, and Doan on the other.

Mrs. Robinson was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain, severe lacerations and possible internal injuries. James Travis, 42 years of age, 326 West Sixty-fifth street, driver of the automobile, was injured slightly.

M. Connolly was the motorman of the train. The automobile was hurled several feet and wrecked.

FORSAKES SOCIETY FOR PART IN FILMS

(Muriel Photo)
Ann Rork

HOLLYWOOD has solved the mystery of Ann Rork. Yesterday it was learned she is the daughter of Sam E. Rork, a film producer, and that she has forsaken a society for the films. She is 17 years of age and recently finished at the York School for Girls at Cooperstown, N. Y.

After numerous screen tests directed by Maurice Tourneur, Miss Rork was given a part in Marion Fairfax's production, "The Desert Healer." Miss Rork's mother was once prominent on the New York opera stage.

At right is quoted the actual wording of a Fourteenth Century plastering contract.

Will your plastering be done "well and fittingly, without default?"

When "Adam le Plaster, citizen of London," in a contract recorded in 1313, bound himself to plaster the hall of Sir John de Bretagne, Earl of Richmond, he pledged all of his movable and immovable goods, lands, houses and tenements, as security for work done "well, and fittingly, without default." But Adam made one important condition—that the work be done "at his own proper charges."

YOU can depend today upon plastering done "well and fittingly, without default," if it be done by a competent plasterer "at his own proper charges."

Your plasterer's "own proper charges" will be determined by the nature of your work, varying according to differences in construction, and other details. But these charges never will be more than a fair price for work done "well and fittingly, without default."

Your plasterer's specifications will call for three-coat work, good materials, good workmanship.

Your plastering will be well-rodged; walls and ceilings will be free from buckles, waves or bulges; corners and angles will be true.

Your plastering will come up to door jams and window casings close and clean; built-in fixtures will fit snugly into the space reserved for them.

Compare results such as these with the uneven, unsightly plastering you have seen in some houses, and when you are ready to build remember that "the lowest bid is not always the most economical."

["You Get What You Pay for in Plastering"]

A piece of glass can sometimes be made to look like a diamond. Cheap plastering often has the general appearance of a quality job. But there is no more real value or personal satisfaction in shoddy plastering than in phony jewelry.

Even a genuine diamond—full of flaws and intended only as a "flash"—frequently gets by. Being small, it is hard to scrutinize. But "flawed" plastering is 90 per cent of all that shows in your home. It can't be covered up.

A flawless diamond is always in demand. "Flawless" plastering likewise gives a home a higher resale value.

This is one of a series of advertisements on the importance of Good Plastering, published by The Blue Diamond Company solely in the interests of the building public. The entire story of Plastering—just what materials you should buy or whom you should hire—but what you should know about plastering—has been made into an interesting illustrated booklet which will gladly be sent on request. Address your name and address to: 1610 Diamond Street, Los Angeles.

BACK WITH LASKY
BRYANT WASHBURN TO PLAY FOR PARAMOUNT
By Grace Kingsley
Bryant Washburn was welcomed like a long-lost brother when he returned to the Famous Lasky studio yesterday for a new role in the important part of Raymond in the new production of "The Great Gatsby" which has just been released from "Wet Paint".
It was just five years ago that Washburn left the Lasky studio, launched on his independent production schedule. The part he will play in "The Great Gatsby" is that of the brother, which will give him every opportunity to reveal those talents that have so long pleased the public.
Speaking of welcomes, Bebe Daniels received a warm one when she came back to work yesterday for the first time following her accident when the bicycle which she was riding in doing a stunt skidded and she was thrown under the wheels of a machine. She is playing in "Miss Brewster's Millions".
The stunt was taken up just where Bebe left it off, with the star riding her more or less trusty bike down a long flight of stairs ahead of a squad of motorcyclists.
Director James Cruze, together with Harry Carr and Walter Woods, the latter two the authors of "Old Ironsides" and "Laurel and Stirling" are spending considerable time in the projection room while hundreds of scenic shots of "Tripoli" are unrolled. These shots were taken by Cruze on his location trip for the story of the war against the Algerian pirates.

JACK MULHALL WILL STAR IN BIG ONES
Debonair Jack Mulhall has just stepped off the elevator onto the top floor of screenland to take his seat in the select circle. He has just been signed to a five-year contract by First National's latest feature, "The First National" which is a production of the company's feminine stars, according to a statement made yesterday by John McCormick, general manager of the West Coast units.
That First National would sign the able and popular leading man has been anticipated for some time as Mulhall has recently appeared in four consecutive First National successes. Such were his his he scored opposite Constance Tilton in "The Great Gatsby" and opposite Constance Moore in "The Moderns". That First National co-starring him with Dorothy MacCallie in "The Great Gatsby" and opposite Constance Moore in "The Moderns". That First National co-starring him with Dorothy MacCallie in "The Great Gatsby" and opposite Constance Moore in "The Moderns".

Richard Barthelmess Arrives
Richard Barthelmess is coming back to Hollywood. His next production for First National release will be "The Great Gatsby" which will be released on the Coast on February 15. Information comes from a telegram to John McCormick, in charge of First National's West Coast Studios, from J. Boyce Smith, general manager of Inspiration Pictures, to whom Barthelmess is under contract.
The star will arrive in town today at 2 o'clock. According to Smith, Barthelmess will film Richard Harding Davis' "Random's Folly", one of his noted author's most popular books. The picture will be made on a lavish scale. While it is not known whether the picture will be made on a lavish scale, it is intimated that it may be a forerunner to Barthelmess' stay in California some time and producing additional features here.
M.G.-M.'s Big One
The "Trail of '98" is to be one of the big features which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will make during the coming year. It will have to do with the Klondike gold rush. Clarence Brown has been asked to direct, and will do so in case his director Norma Taft's next picture to follow "Kiki" does not interfere.

Fineman With First National
Among the important executive switches of the past year is that to be made Saturday by B. F. Fineman, general manager of the F.N.O. studios, when he will leave his post in that company and join the ranks of First National Productions.
Fineman has been contracted by John McCormick, in charge of west coast production activities for First National, to supervise the production of four feature productions during the coming year. He will make a hurried visit to New York before he takes up the reins of his new post in the First National organization.
The deal was made yesterday between McCormick and the official, but to date there has been no announcement as to the stories Fineman will supervise. This will be announced early next week, it is said.

WARD CRANE GIVEN PART
Latest to be given a part in Victor Fleming's forthcoming Paramount picture, "The Blind Goddess" is Ward Crane, virile young leading man, who will portray the role of Tracy Redmond, prosecuting attorney. Featured players in the cast are Ernest Torrence, Jack Holt, Esther Ralston and Louise Dresser.

OPERA AT SHRINERS' NEW HOME SATURDAY
"Aida" to be sung by San Carlo Company With Special Scenery
"Opera on a larger scale than ever known before locally."
That is what George Leslie Smith promises for the special performance of "Aida" which the greatly augmented San Carlo company will give at the new Shrine Civic Auditorium, Jefferson and Royal streets, Saturday evening.
It will be the first time this new edifice will be used for an operatic performance and the occasion will be a fitting one. For arrangements for the performance have been under way for the past ten weeks and special scenery has been procured which will be in keeping with the gigantic scale of the building.
The San Carlo chorus will be greatly strengthened, while the ballet, which is such an integral and beautiful part of the San Carlo presentations of "Aida," has been increased in size by Helen and Darro.
Carlo Peroni will wield his baton over an orchestra augmented in proportion with the remainder of the company. The entire result will be a musical treat whose journey to the new and magnificent Masonic edifice will long remember. Smith promises a large number of popular-priced seats, so that this might be called an "economy event" if opera were prone to take on merchandising habits.
The cast will be one of the strongest that Fortune Galle has ever summoned forth. Clara Jacobo, whose singing of "Aida" last Wednesday evening won her the unstinted praise of press and public, will be heard again. Manuel Salazar, the Metropolitan Opera tenor, will be heard as Radames, while Emilio Ghirardini, the baritone from the Constantin Opera of Rome, who has won such admirers, will be heard as Amonasro. He will be heard as Amonasro. He will be heard as Amonasro. He will be heard as Amonasro.

LOS ANGELES TRIO TO APPEAR AT BILTMORE
Thursday evening, the 28th inst., marks the third concert this season of the Los Angeles Trio, May MacDonald Hope, pianist; Sylvain Noack, violinist; Ilva Bronson, cellist. The concert will take place in the music salon of the Biltmore Hotel.
The program will be unusual in its varied and colorful numbers and the novelty of this concert will be the trio in B flat major from the pen of Arthur Foote. This trio, if it has been done in Los Angeles, will be a new one. This American composer enjoys the distinction, among the very best American composers, of having received his education exclusively in America. His influences have been felt all over our country.
Mr. Foote has made many excursions into chamber music and the trio in B flat major is among his best.

DIRECTOR STUDIES IMPERIAL HISTORY
Charles Brabin, director, and Marceline Day, star of "The Winning of Barbara Worth," together with Michael Rosenberg, are studying the early history of Imperial Valley and the great desert these days from one of the early pioneers who made the first survey of this great barren tract.
David Russell is the instructor and possesses most accurate firsthand knowledge of those early days. Russell, in addition to being a member of the first engineering party, was the character Harold Bell Wright named Pat Mooney in the novel "The Winning of Barbara Worth."
It was from Russell and other old settlers that Harold Bell Wright obtained much of his data, and as Michael Rosenberg has announced that realism will be obtained at all cost in the film version of "The Winning of Barbara Worth," Russell's knowledge is proving most helpful to the director and principals.

MUSIC
LUCCHESI SPLENDID COLORATURA WINS TRIUMPH IN "TRAVIATA"
By Edwin Schallert
Josephine Lucchese was the superb star of the production of "La Traviata" presented last night by the San Carlo Opera Company. Both in singing and acting she made the part of Violetta one of the biggest individual successes of the company's engagement here.
The Verdi work had an emotional and well-balanced presentation at the hands of Fortune Galle's troupe. The opera proved especially the excellent general qualifications of the principals that compose the organization this season.
A larger audience than usual was present for the performance at Philharmonic Auditorium. The applause after each act was a notable tribute to the singers. Miss Lucchese gained particular attention in these ovations and also received a number of floral tributes. "La Traviata" is always a bright attraction. It unfortunately lacked that bigness of ensemble which gives it its peculiar glitter, for the chorus is not seemingly as large as usual, though combined with the ballet the number of people on stage attains very creditable numbers. The voices in the chorus appear to make up in quality some of what they may lack in big volume.
The starring features of the opera were the dashing and popular aria, the dramatic effect, and the combined voices of the principals in some of the group climaxes. Especially good was the cost of the second act following the denunciation of Violetta by her lover.
The charm of Miss Lucchese's personality was amply manifested during her entire portrayal, and she gave it also a high degree of reality. She interpreted the emotional scenes with an intensity of feeling that was very telling, and except for a high note or so not satisfactorily fine, the cost of the very slightest defect of pitch in one or two cases, sang the role with a stability and ease which is in general smooth and of clear quality.
Mario Valle surprised with his very artistic rendering of the "Di Provenza" air. He substituted for Emilio Ghirardini, and frankly I have never heard him sing better. He seems to have overcome to an amazing degree that vibrato which at one time detracted from his work. It will be interesting as a consequence to note what he may accomplish with the Athenian role in "Thais" this evening.
Franco Tassio was vocally acceptable as Alfredo. His performance may have been somewhat less dramatically, but commendable at any rate. In the scene of the ensemble singing the romance of his lyric tenor shows forth very strikingly, and his singing is in general smooth and of clear quality.
Emily Bryson, Harriet Hillard and Emily Renard were applauded for their work in the ballet numbers.
Conductor Peroni disclosed his musicianship in the reading of the score and was brought to the fore on the stage to divide honors of the evening with the singers.
"Hansel and Gretel," the novelty of the company's repertoire, will be given this afternoon.

Hydroplane to be Piloted in Race by Actress
Vera Steadman will drive the Christie speedboat Baby Mine in the hydroplane races to be held next month at Palm Beach, Fla. taking the second prize. This year to make the trip for this big motorboat event, which will draw spectators from all over the United States, actress Steadman will be sent to Florida for the event, the other being Dick Logan's "Smiling Dutch" which has shown notable form in the race this year in Southern California.
Al Christie, owner of Baby Mine, told the speedboat aboard a Luckenbach liner the 26th inst. at Wilmington.
Miss Steadman, the speedboat as she recently returned from a trip to Paris, then appeared in a comedy picture at the studio and will do one more picture before leaving for the Florida races.

POPULAR COMEDIAN SIGNS WITH CORPER
Following the securing of the Pacific Coast production rights to Lynn Starling's comedy hit, "Weak Sisters," Producer Michael Corper has engaged the popular comedian, Tristram Coffin, for one of the principal roles for the road production.
Miss Prizanna will be seen in the role of a "dapper grandmother," a part that will be especially suited to her initial, has comedy talents. With the securing of Miss Prizanna the balance of the cast will be selected this week and rehearsals immediately begun. The mechanics of the production have been completed under the supervision of Rita Glover.
"Weak Sisters" is now in its third week at the Majestic and is regarded as the outstanding comedy hit of the local season and is now playing to capacity attendance.

DOROTHY DEVORE LEAVES WARNERS
Close upon the heels of the withdrawal of several other film players from the Warner Brothers ranks comes the news of the termination, by mutual consent, of the contract of Dorothy Devore. The contractual break came yesterday morning.
Joining the Warner fold after several years as a featured player in Christie comedies, she rapidly entrenched herself as a dramatic artist of ability in such productions as "The Narrow Street" and "How Baxter Butted In." It is understood Miss Devore desires to avail herself of free-lance opportunities.
Carmel Myers, exotic motion-picture beauty, whose work as "Iris," the alien, has been hailed as one of the finest stage features of "Ben Hur," now in its New York premiere, has been added to the cast of "Toto," the picturization of the famous stage play by Achmed Abdullah, which John M. Stahl will begin directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer shortly.

reus, advertising has been raised to a plane where its code of ethics is as high as that of any other business or profession."

Capt. Heath spoke of the co-operation between the police department and the Better Business Bureau, pointing out that the basic principle of the bureau is that the department is the education of the public in obedience to law and order.

Mr. Daugherty, speaking on co-operation between the State Corporation Department and the Better Business Bureau, stressed the value of the aid to that department furnished by the bureau.

GAS HEARING TO RESUME

A hearing on the application of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric, Midway Gas and the Southern California Gas companies to increase rates will be resumed here today by State Railroad Commissioners Seavey and Decoto. The commissioners will also continue an investigation at the hearing of the rates to be charged by the Southern Counties Gas Company for natural gas furnished to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company.

"More than 99 per cent of all advertising today is truthful as a result of the widespread efforts during the last three decades of advertising clubs and business men generally to raise the standard of ethics in this line of endeavor," declared Ray E. Nimmo, counsel for the Better Business Bureau of Los Angeles, in an address at the luncheon of the local Advertising Club at the Biltmore yesterday.

The entire program at the Business Bureau luncheon was devoted to a discussion of the Better Business Bureau and its work. The meeting was attended by a number of city, county and State officials, whose departments co-operate with the bureau and who were guests of honor. The speakers included Edward J. "Duke" Moore, general incorporation commissioner, and Cleveland Heath, captain of the Los Angeles police department. The meeting was conducted by W. R. "Boomer" Head of the Better Business Bureau.

Mr. Nimmo gave a brief history of the development of advertising ethics, stating that thirty years ago most advertising was misleading. "The standard of advertising today is the fact that honesty in advertising is the best policy, not only from the standpoint of the moral questions involved, but also because it is the most profitable," said Mr. Nimmo. "They have worked along that line ever since, and, with the organization of advertising clubs in 1919 and later the creation of better business bu-

Photos from Flood-Ravished Mexican State of Nayarit

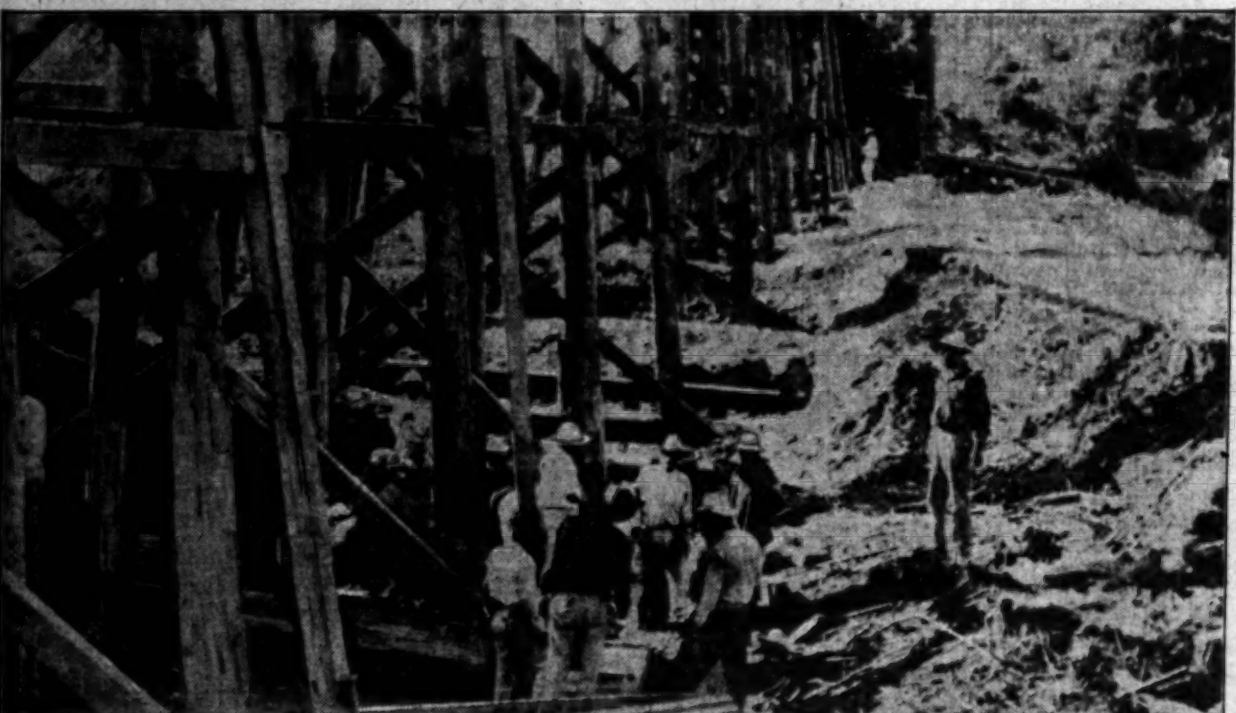

THE MOST disastrous floods that have visited Mexico since 1887 swept through the State of Nayarit several weeks ago, taking a toll of approximately 2000 human lives and causing damage the full extent of which has not been estimated. Near Santiago, the waters of the Rio Santiago, raging across a broad valley, swept clean of vegetation and habitation a swath ten miles in width for a distance of miles. The photos printed on this page were received yesterday from W. A. Ford, assistant construction engineer on the Southern Pacific of Mexico, with headquarters at Mazatlan, and are presented to Times readers through the courtesy of W. E. Ford, the latter conveying an idea of the damage wrought by the swollen rivers of the district.

Temporary railway bridge erected within a few days after the waters of the Rio Aconeta had receded.

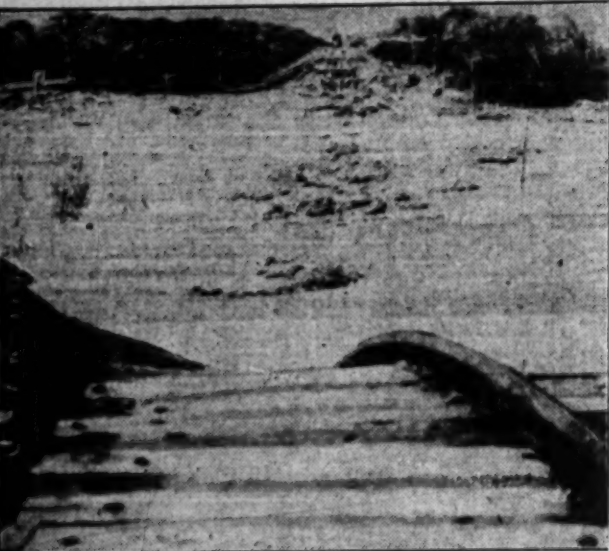

All that is left of a railway bridge on the Rio Santiago. Waters came to within four feet of rails of standing.

This desolate bottom on the banks of the Rio Santiago boasted a dense tropical jungle before the flood swept it clean.

George C. Morgan in Charge of Enterprise

The new Downtown Evening School will open Monday at 1236 West Pico street in a new building. A complete list of academic subjects will be offered as well as a number of commercial and art courses. This new evening high school is being opened to care for business men and women to whom other evening schools are too remote, and to accommodate the usual overflow of the Polytechnic Evening High School, according to Vlering Kees, assistant superintendent of schools. Mr. Kees' long experience as principal of Polytechnic, and his familiarity with other evening schools, have shown him the need of a school in the vicinity of the new Downtown Evening School.

WIDE SUBJECT RANGE
Among the commercial subjects are commercial art, showing lettering and poster work, bookkeeping, stenography for business and an advanced class of stenography and typewriting. Distinction will be given in all of these classes. There also will be a class in trying for business.

A class in housewifery will be opened, and classes in dressmaking, millinery and flower making are listed. Academic subjects of high-school grade, such as beginner's grammar, spelling, sentence-building, and speech and advanced grammar and spelling, review of English, and advanced grammar and spelling, will be offered. There also will be a class in business English, and a class in advanced bookkeeping and mathematics, which will include drills in fractions, decimals, interest and short methods of bookkeeping and an advanced class in algebra, are some of the academic courses presented. The library will be open two evenings each week with supervised study.

STUDENT HAVE PART
Mechanical drafting, shop practice, sheet metal, drafting and wood work, wood shop, cabinet making, furniture making and finishing and wood turning will be offered to the trades. Music appreciation with sight singing and physical training and a gymnasium with drills, games and folk dancing will be open to men and women. American history and two classes in Spanish for beginners and advanced students also are included in the program. The Downtown Evening High School will be under the direction of George C. Morgan, who has been associated with the day and evening schools in Los Angeles for 12 years. Mr. Morgan was vice-principal at the Polytechnic Evening High School for three years. The classes will be organized to meet the demand as the new school develops, and Mr. Morgan will make the work as extensive as any of the other large evening high schools.

HOSPITAL'S STAFF DINES AND ELECTS

Completion of New Unit to Make Lutheran Institution Model of Efficiency
There will not be a more modern or efficient hospital plant in the United States than the new building of the California Lutheran Hospital, members of the staff were told last evening at the annual staff dinner in the University Club. Superintendent Olson presented a detailed report regarding the unit now nearing completion. He said the building has been designed to provide for elimination of noise and to insure every convenience for the staff and patients. Construction was financed through a bond issue of $1,750,000 and the new structure will be ready for use early in March. A. Larson, chairman of the hospital building committee, told of the difficulties of the past, but declared victory is now in sight. He thanked the staff and others who have co-operated toward making the new building a reality. The election of members of the executive medical board of the hospital staff resulted as follows: Dr. E. J. Cook, F. L. Anton, E. A. Newton and Granville McGowan. All will serve three years.

GREGORY CLEARED IN COURT

Women's Plaint Against Former Councilman for Salaries Dismissed
Miss Gregory, former Councilman and a candidate for Mayor at the last municipal election, won a dismissal of the labor-law charges against him yesterday in Police Judge Richardson's court. The former city official was charged in two complaints with violation of the State Labor Law in failure to pay the salaries of two women said to have been employed as campaign workers in the pre-election battle.

The plaintiffs were Estelle H. Campbell of 1025 Macy street, who declared that Gregory had failed to pay $120 due her in wages, and H. Adele White of 143 South Oxford street, who asserted that $375 was due her in salary from the defeated candidate. In his own defense, Gregory stated that he knew the women and knew that they worked in his behalf during the campaign. He declared, however, that he made no agreement with them either verbally or in writing as to employment and pay.

Several members of the campaign committee followed Gregory on the stand. They testified that the committee had entered into no agreement with the plaintiffs to pay them. Judge Richardson, at the conclusion of the case, declared that no evidence had been adduced to show that anyone had agreed to pay the plaintiffs and dismissed the charges.

Not until the vote has been taken away from women or the nation agrees to return to slavery will the Eighteenth Amendment be in danger of repeal, in the opinion of Dr. Frank Crane, essayist, who spoke at the annual Young Men's Christian Association banquet and election of directors at the central association building last night. He spoke of the aims of the association and declared them to be fundamental and broad enough for all peoples. "Most of the Y's aims are wrapped up in the kindly deeds," he said, "and the Y's are the core of American life. I like the Y. It is the practical arm of the church."

ARREST ONE, SEEK TWO IN FRAUD CASE

Oxnard Automobile Men Wanted in Asserted Sale of $30,000 Bogus Paper
An asserted fraud in which two prominent automobile dealers of Oxnard are said to have obtained more than $30,000 from a local finance company by the sale of fictitious automobile contracts was revealed late last night with the arrest here of the secretary of a local branch of the finance company, Charles W. Clark, 35 years of age, on a charge of suspicion of felony embezzlement. The two fugitives now sought in a nation-wide search are C. S. Hobb, 27 years of age and W. H. Taylor, 38 years of age, who operated the Oxnard Motor Sales Company in Oxnard. The victim of the asserted embezzlement is the Commercial Discount Corporation, which, according to a report made to police several days ago by Thomas D. Wakefield, an official of the company, lost approximately $30,000. Clark, through his attorney, J. D. Taggart, last night denied any complicity in the asserted embezzlement and said that the commercial paper of the Oxnard Motor Sales Company of Oxnard passed through his hands merely as a matter of office routine. He denied that he had any knowledge of the asserted embezzlement. Clark was taken in custody at his office at 824 South Spring street and declared his willingness to stand a thorough investigation.

MARCO CASE MADE PLAIN TO COUNCIL

Police Explain "King of Main Street" Had Permit to Have Revolver
The name of Albert Marco, reputed "King of Main street," bobbed up at the meeting of the City Council yesterday when Deputy Police Chief Hill reported, for Police Chief Heath that, at the Christmas-night party at which Marco was arrested, Marco was carrying a revolver by authority of a one-year permit issued by Sheriff Traeger, on January 19, 1925. The permit expired last Tuesday. Whether or not a new one has been issued, was not known at the City Hall. Officials at the Sheriff's office declared no permit had been granted Marco this year.

Councilman Jacobson, who has been Marco's nemesis so far as the City Council is concerned, started his anti-Marco resolutions under way following the Christmas night party, where the police records show, there was a fight at an apartment on South Westlake avenue between Marco and a Richard Coster. Marco drew a revolver, was arrested and at first booked for assault with a deadly weapon, and later the prosecution was dropped. Councilman Jacobson asked, "Why?" and his resolution brought forth a report from the police department yesterday that Marco had a permit to carry a revolver and that as none of the participants in the Christmas-night fight would sign complaints or assist in the prosecution, the police had no case on which to proceed.

Councilman Jacobson yesterday wanted to keep his war on Marco alive by referring Deputy Chief Hill's report to the Public Welfare Committee, but the Council ordered the report filed.

Sailors Identify Tattooed Body of Mystery Girl

The body of the mystery girl tattooed weirdly with the names of sailors, was identified yesterday as that of Lillian Witherow, said to be the daughter of a Taft undertaker. The identification was made by Robert Mansfield, a Navy seaman, and another sailor, according to Detective-Lieutenant Jarvis. Lieut. Jarvis said the case will be recorded as suicide and no autopsy performed, as police are satisfied she took poison. Mansfield said, according to Jarvis, the girl seemed despondent on Saturday night when she attended a party at 843 Maple avenue. She died the following day at the home of Mrs. G. L. Ross, an acquaintance, who knew her as Viola. The body will be held pending instructions from relatives.

THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT CANADA REUNION

Auto caravans from many points in Southern California and probably some from points further will be here February 6 for the twelfth annual Canadian tourists' reunion and Canadian picnic in Exposition Park and the Coliseum. J. Hooper, president of the Canadian Tourists' Society, in charge announced yesterday from the organization's headquarters at 515 South Spring street. Word has already been received of the formation of such caravans at San Diego and Santa Barbara, he said, while plans are under way for several from the San Francisco Bay District. With these prospective visitors, Hooper believes the total attendance will be between 15,000 and 100,000 people, he said.

STAND FALL DATA LET OUT

Pasadena Releases Report on New Year Accident; Total of 398 Injured, With Seven Deaths
By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Jan. 26.—Members of the Pasadena Board of City Directors changed their minds this evening and decided to make public the official report of Chief Surgeon Troensegaard on the injuries received by victims of the New Year's Day street-stand accident. Earlier in the day the directors had refused to accept the statement on the grounds it would bring unfavorable publicity to the city. The report as released tonight, Kimball of San Diego, through her attorney, Fred O'Farrell, of that city. The claim is for $500. The woman received contusions of the legs and ribs and a strained ankle which will confine her to her bed for six weeks and her condition is the result of "improper carelessness on the part of the city of Pasadena," the claim sets forth. The statement was turned over to City Attorney Howard, who has on several occasions pointed out that the city is not legally liable for damages sustained in an accident of this kind. The claim will be considered among many others to be paid by the city, however, if the $100,000 bond issue for the relief of the victims of the accident, carries in Friday's election.

KINDS OF INJURIES

One hundred and five men and 293 women were among the victims. The average age was 54 years. Twenty-one children were hurt. The various kinds of injuries are described by Dr. Troensegaard as follows: twelve brain concussions, one spinal concussion, one case of internal derangement, twenty internal injuries, three heart complications, 148 shock cases, 207 fractures, 117 lacerations, 710 bruises and abrasions, eleven dislocations and thirty-one wrenches. Seventy-five calls for financial assistance, although not of an official nature, are reported by the surgeon.

DAMAGE CLAIM FILED

The first claim for damages against the city as a result of the ground-stand accident was received today by the Directors from Ida M. Russell, Clagg, fruit dealer, sold a police officer ten pounds of apples which actually weighed only six and a half pounds. It was charged, J. S. McClell, it was said, sold a customer a 100-pound sack of potatoes which weighed in at only seventy-four pounds.

JANUARY 27, 1926.—[PART II.] 17

A dark, high-contrast image showing a dense, vertical pattern of fine, parallel lines. The lines are closely spaced and run vertically across the entire frame. The overall appearance is that of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or a close-up of a material with a fine grain. The lighting is very low, creating a deep black background with subtle variations in the texture of the lines.
